FORMER PRESIDENT
TAKES GOVERNOR TO TASK ON LYNCHINGROLPH STRIKES BACK IN
COMMENT ON USE TROOPS
IN BONUS MARCH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Nov. 30.—(P)—Former President Herbert Hoover in a statement today sharply criticized Governor James Rolph, Jr., and his stand on the San Jose lynchings in reply to an earlier statement of the governor indirectly blaming Hoover for the use of troops against the bonus marchers in Washington.

The governor had said earlier, in replying to a previous statement signed by Hoover and a group of San Francisco citizens condemning his approval of the San Jose lynching, that he "deplored" the use of troops against the bonus marchers.

The Hoover statement referred to "One trouble with Governor Rolph's statement is his gross ignorance of the facts. Not a single shot was fired, not a single person was injured by the troops called out in Washington in response to the appeal of local authorities. The troops ended the bloodshed which was then in progress through conflicts between rioters and police."

The governor's statement is plain, and not to be obscured by such misstatements. The governor has been advocating lynch law. It is a subversion of the very spirit of organized society. It is an American crime, and a reflection on the state of California. It is not supported by its citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—(P)—A public rebuke for the governor of California, to which the name President Herbert Hoover was applied, today intensified the crossfire of criticism over the San Jose lynchings.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., who was censured for his approval of the lynching in a statement signed by Mr. Hoover and other prominent San Jose citizens, said in Sacramento he had not decided whether to reply.

Husband, Wife Found Dead By Oklahoma Road

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 30.—(P)—The bodies of C. C. Bulla, 42, and his wife, 38, were found late yesterday at the side of the highway, a mile west of Sulphur. County Attorney Lynn Norman of Sulphur pronounced the deaths murder and suicide.

Bulla had been unemployed but was to have gone to work Monday on a S.W.A. project.

Two Killed By
Trains Thursday
In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30.—(P)—Two men were killed by trains in Fort Worth this morning, exactly an hour apart.

John D. Hoffer, 74, was struck by an eastbound T. and P. passenger train at 7:55 o'clock and died a few minutes later.

J. W. Roberson, 32, was fatally injured at 8:55 o'clock when his automobile was struck by a northbound Southern Pacific freight train. He died less than half an hour later in a hospital. His body was impaled on a derail switch and two cars of the train were thrown off the track.

COURT OF JUSTICE FOR AMERICAS IS URGED AT MEETING

PAN-AMERICAN ROUND TABLE OF TEXAS TAKE UP MATTER WITH URUGUAY

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 30.—(P)—Encouraged by cordial responses from the representatives of eleven governments to its resolutions urging establishment of a court of justice for the Americas, the Pan-American round tables of Texas has addressed a communication to the president of Uruguay to press the project for consideration at the forthcoming Pan American conference in Montevideo.

During the present year, according to Mrs. Florence T. Griswold, director general of the Pan-American round tables, the group dispatched to various governments in the Americas its oft-adopted resolution advocating creation of an American court of justice. The organization proposed a tribunal "where the great spiritual ideals of each country are respected and all questions of dispute involving inter-American interests may be intelligently and satisfactorily settled in this way more freely demonstrate our complete freedom of thought and action, dignifying the republics of the Western Hemisphere by remitting the necessity for submitting problems to American or foreign tribunals."

Replies have been received, according to Mrs. Griswold, from officials of the United States, Paraguay, Salvador, Peru, Chile, Venezuela, and Argentina. The Pan-American round tables, which are to be realized the ideals of humanity with "international rights" finding in America its "truest development."

WORKER EARNING SLIGHTLY MORE THAN IN JULY BUT CAN'T BUY AS MUCH AS PRICES HIGHER

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(P)—The worker is earning slightly more per week than he was in July, with less exertion, but wages will not purchase as much because of a rise in the cost of living, monthly statistics compiled by the National Industrial conference board show.

The recovery in industrial production and in employment was pronounced between March, 1932, and the summer peak of production reached in July, but since then indices of industrial production show some recession.

BATTERED BODY OF
VERNE MILLER, NOTED
KILLER, IS FOUNDDEATH MAN FOUND NUDE IN DITCH NEAR DETROIT IS SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—(P)—Admittedly without clues or theories, police and agents of the United States department of Justice today sought the slayers of Verne Miller, notorious mid-western desperado, whose battered body was found on the outskirts of the city late Wednesday.

The body of the man who had been sought as the machine gunner in the slaying of four officers and a prisoner at the Kansas City union station last June 17, was found in a roadside ditch, nude and trussed up with blankets. Identification was by fingerprints.

An examination of the body established the time of death as 18 to 24 hours before the body was found.

Detectives sought a possible link between the slaying of Miller and the slaying early Sunday of Abe Axler and Eddie Fletcher, New York and Detroit police characters, whose bodies, bearing numerous bullet wounds, were found in an automobile near a north side suburb. It was known by the police that a famous killing—possibly Miller—was brought to Detroit to slay Axler and Fletcher.

It was determined that Miller had been killed by a blunt instrument which was used to beat in his skull and that his body had been transported by automobile to the outskirts of the city and there rolled into a ditch.

Miller was wanted for other crimes than the quintuple Kansas City slayings. He was wanted in (Continued on Page Nine)

ROOSEVELT SPENDS THANKSGIVING WITH FAMILY IN GEORGIA

WILL SIT WITH CHILDREN
PATIENTS AT THURSDAY NIGHT DINNER

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WARM SPRINGS, Nov. 30.—(P)—Franklin D. Roosevelt spent his first Thanksgiving today as president of the United States and it was set aside for his family and the children of this foundation.

It was down here on Pine Mountain that Mr. Roosevelt issued the proclamation for Thanksgiving and it was here yesterday that he indicated satisfaction with his recovery program and announced it would be continued.

The secretary of agriculture, Henry Wallace, and Mrs. Wallace were the only official visitors here today and they were present as part of the family with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Last night the President completed his official talks in a brief meeting with Eugene Black, governor of the Federal Reserve board, and Henry Bruere, Federal Credit coordinator.

F. D. R. SHOWS THE SIGHTS

ST. JOSEPH CALM
AFTER LYNCHING OF NEGRO ASSAULTER

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 30.—(P)—A Thanksgiving calm rested today on St. Joseph where Tuesday night a mob battered its way into the Buchanan county jail, seized and lynched Lloyd Warner, 19-year-old negro accused of a criminal attack upon a young white girl.

An investigation, ordered by Gov. Guy B. Park, proceeded. William O. Sawyers, an assistant attorney general, was in charge. Police and other law enforcement agencies were gathering evidence which probably will be presented to the December grand jury.

In discussing his mission to St. Joseph and the possibility of identifying mob members, Sawyers said he had been definitely assigned to the case and would remain here until members of the mob had been punished.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(P)—The new German Reichstag, made up of 661 members, will be the first Reichstag since the first Reichstag of 1871 through the genius of Bismarck.

There, however, the development stopped. The Hohenzollerns did not even dare and themselves in the attitude of these two financial leaders of the government it was set aside by Black's declaration that he was "fighting" to put through the program.

On the eve of Thanksgiving Mr. Roosevelt issued a message through a talk to the boys of the Civilian Conservation corps in camp here that he wanted this work to continue another year. He also made it known yesterday that he intended to ask for more public works funds to continue the job-making campaign of this program.

There were two Thanksgiving dinners today for the President. At noon he and Mrs. Roosevelt and immediate members of the family sat about the festive table at the Little White House on Pine Mountain.

GOVERNOR RITCHIE
CRITICIZES ACTION
IN RELEASING MENMILITARY COUP OF MARY-LAND GOVERNOR ENDS IN COMPLETE FIASCO

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Nov. 30.—(P)—The judges who yesterday freed the four lynch suspects arrested by the national guard meet here tomorrow to plan procedure for local investigation of the same crime.

Chief Judge John R. Patterson, who presided at the habeas corpus hearing and ordered the release of the four arrested by the state administration through the state troops, said he and his associates would reconvene the grand jury at an early date.

The grand jury, according to the announced plan of State's Attorney John R. Enoch, is to be evidence against the same four freed by the judges and, perhaps, four others. The evidence will be the same as that which Governor Ritchie and Attorney General William Preston Lane, Jr., wanted brought out publicly before a committee magistrate or at the habeas corpus hearing.

The developments of the last three days including the use of troops and arrest of the four, finally resulted in the victory of Robins' plan of procedure over that sought by the governor. For today Governor Ritchie at Annapolis announced that he had done all he could do and the state administration would take no further part—other than to furnish the evidence for the grand jury investigation. That is what Robins asked from the beginning.

The only evidence identifying alleged participants in the lynching of the negro, Armwood, at Prince Georges, was secured by Attorney General Lane.

BODIES OF MISSING
WOMEN WERE FOUND IN SHALLOW GRAVE

VICTIMS GANGLAND RIDE
AFTER ANOTHER MURDER;
KNEW TOO MUCH

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., Nov. 30.—(P)—The mystery of what happened to Florence Miller and Ethel Marshall, former night club employees who disappeared after a recent gangland slaying near Camden, N. J., has been solved.

Their bullet-riddled bodies were dug up yesterday from a shallow grave, hidden by withering corn stalks in a field about two miles from the tiny community of Brandywine Manor.

Police who had sought them for a month as they were victims of gangland's way of sealing the lips of those who knew too much.

The women disappeared the night of November 1 a few hours after Edward (Cowboy) Wallace and John Zukowsky had been "taken for a ride." Zukowsky lived to name the slayers of his companion and has since recovered.

It was while on the way to a hospital to see him that the two women disappeared. They were reported seen getting into an automobile near the hospital.

At that time, investigators expressed belief they had been abducted and silenced. Their bodies were found by Edgar McLaughlin, a farmer and his helper. McLaughlin noticed the earth had been disturbed in the field where he was husking corn and investigated. He summoned police, who completed the gruesome task. They found Miss Marshall had been shot seven times through the head and chest. A bullet through the head ended Miss Miller's life.

At a spot about two miles distant, Miss Marshall's sedan, blood-stained bullet-punctured, had been found the day after her disappearance.

Thanksgiving
Dinner Host
Dies at Table

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 30.—(P)—Ten dinner guests were seated at the table in the home of Ben Johnson, 52, periodical dealer, and grace was being said by the host.

"We thank thee, O Lord, for these gifts which we are about to receive."

A shot rang out. The guests, raising their heads, saw Johnson slump to the floor with a revolver in his hand. Police said he had shot himself. He died a few hours later in a hospital.

SPECIAL TRAIN CARRIES
LARGE NUMBER FOOTBALL
FANS TO CLEBURNE

Approximately 400 pep-laden football enthusiasts were aboard the special train that left Corsicana at 9:30 Thursday morning, headed for Cleburne where the Tigers will meet the Yellow Jackets in their annual combat, with the Corsicana entry battling for a chance to meet Waco in a belated return game to determine the district finalist.

It is estimated that fully as many more made the trip during the morning by automobile, and dozens other grid fans made the trek to College Station to attend the annual Longhorn-Aggie conflict.

Business was at a standstill in Corsicana Thursday as almost every merchant observed the national holiday, even the drug stores operating on curtailed schedules to allow their employees something for which to be thankful. The banks, postoffice, the schools and other establishments took the holiday.

Many churches held special Thanksgiving services Wednesday night while others held theirs during the early hours Thursday morning, and one was scheduled for Thursday night.

Duck and deer hunters were also reported to have taken advantage of the holiday occasion for some shooting.

Midnight shows, dances, family reunions, and many other forms of entertainment supplied the social recreation of many of them.

Accompanying the Tiger special to Cleburne were several members of the 1932 State Champion eleven, including several of the last year luminaries who have been performing on college squads this season.

Robert Findley of St. M. U., Morris Westbrook and Dill Cole of A. and M. College, and several others who were not attending school including Shuler Murphy, "Bible" Price, Cotton McGee and others.

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 30.—(P)—A plucky girl and a bottle of hot soup helped turn possible tragedy into a real Thanksgiving for nine passengers of a plane that came down last night in Lake St. Clair.

The girl, Kathleen Smith of Chicago, hostess on an American Airways plane, opened the door and shivered neck-deep in icy water while aiding the passengers to get out of the plane. The soup, which bobbed up from the cabin in a vacuum bottle, was salvaged eagerly and warmed chilled bodies during the wait for rescuers from the nearby Canadian shore.

Neither the girl nor the soup, the passengers agreed after they had been given medical attention at Riverside, deserved all the praise in the fortunate escape.

NATION GRATEFUL FOR BENEFICENCES
SEEN ON EVERY HANDMILLIONS NOW WORKING
WHO HAVE NOT WORKED IN YEARS PREVIOUS

Citizens of the United States observed the traditional and wholly-American holiday of Thanksgiving Thursday with prayerful minds and grateful hearts, and made terrific inroads on the 1933 crop of turkeys.

From millions came heartfelt thanks and appreciation, and millions who were tramping streets a year ago would have where their next meal was to be had, and what was to be the eventual fate of their families.

Who now face a future with optimism and courage derived from the nationwide drive conducted under the personal leadership of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt which has already resulted in millions finding employment, in provisions being made to prevent actual suffering for those who have not yet found employment.

The farmers of the nation, too, gave thanks for higher returns from their crops, and prospects of even greater benefits from the "New Deal."

The nation as a whole gave thanks for the courage and leadership in high places that dared to do, even though the acts were unprecedented and possibly radical, observed only from the conventional viewpoint. Even the business world, as yet ungraced by the future, gave thanks at least for a change from the gaunt days and tragic memories of the years past.

Editorial Praise
For Roosevelt In British Paper

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(P)—The Daily Express, often outspoken in its criticism of American affairs, paid tribute to President Roosevelt today with an editorial headed "The President is a Man."

"In America," it said, "Roosevelt stands up to furious onslaughts. The Wall Street banks line up against him. His old friends are suddenly dead in droves. His flight is shameful."

"The president is tackling a job which would be enough to break most men's hearts. The mess was made by interests in a panic. Roosevelt keeps his nerve. He carries on and he will carry through."

"Other news from over there concerns a fresh wave of lynching. A country which lets criminals prosper in their trade unchecked and then takes the law into its own hands and goes mad wants a brave man for its head in a crisis. Americans are lucky to have found him."

Thanksgiving

Turkeys, cranberries, pumpkins make a festival of the harvest time. . . The blue haze of late autumn hangs in the valley. . . Grass brittle with frost crunches under foot. . .

It is Thanksgiving Day. Feasting and good cheer are in order. The year's work nears its end. A fertile soil has yielded its bounty. The time, for many, is one of celebration, of merrymaking.

But the holiday was conceived in misery. Pilgrims lashed by intolerance fled to America. Storms forced them from their Virginia goal and brought them the forbidding coast of Massachusetts.

There they scratched in the dirt and planted their crops with one eye on the Indians.

But sickness had taken its toll among the redskins, and they were friendly to the settlers.

In the autumn the Pilgrims harvested their crops and made ready for the winter and its rigors.

They landed with nothing now they had comparative abundance.

Humbly, they bowed their heads and gave thanks to an almighty God.

They bade the Indians come from the forest and join them in three days of feasting and thanksgiving.

The joyous laughter of night-hatted men and hooded women met the forest and join them in three days of feasting and thanksgiving.

the stoical faces of the natives.

So was the first Thanksgiving Day in America observed.

That spirit, continuing, was, in 1864, to inspire the proclamation which made the observance of Thanksgiving in November an annual holiday from that time on.

The country had been torn by civil conflict; brother had been set against brother.

The false economic prosperity of the war days ruled the market place. The nation was battle-weary and afraid.

Abraham Lincoln, in the midst of this unrest, proclaimed that the fourth Thursday in November of that year, and of succeeding years, should be set aside as a day of thanksgiving.

Perhaps he took his cue from the first President, George Washington, who in 1789 proclaimed Thursday, November 26, as a general day of thanksgiving.

Wars and depressions in many years have made a deep imprint on the observances, but always the holiday carries through.

And so today does it bring to 1883 the spirit first expressed in 1821—the spirit of gratitude for blessings received, of thankfulness too for troubles averted.

Again the nation bows its head.

FINCH CLUB HELD ACHIEVEMENT DAY ON NOVEMBER 14TH

The ladies of the Home Demonstrations Clubs of Navarro County planned an Achievement Day for all the clubs extending over a period of four days, beginning November 14. This was done so that the clubs would have an opportunity to visit each other in order to see the accomplishments of the different clubs as a whole.

Tuesday, Nov. 14, they met at the home of Mrs. Musa Tarrer, and after examining the goods on the co-operatives' table, pit type and color, and other improvements about the place, the crowd gathered in the living room for a final discussion of achievement and plans. A piano selection rendered by Miss Cora Roberts of White's Chapel was greatly appreciated by every one present.

At the close of the program everybody gathered in the dining room where a delicious luncheon brought good things to eat and the hostess, Mrs. Earl Ray, served hot dripped coffee.

Those present were Miss Ruth McNabb, Mr. C. C. Morris, Miss Mabie Walker, Miss Cora Roberts, Mrs. C. A. Still, Mrs. W. A. Dobbs, Mrs. T. J. Garner, Mrs. Annie Young Morton, Mrs. T. E. Young, Mrs. J. D. McManus, Mrs. H. M. Basham, Mrs. J. W. Howell, Mrs. H. W. Morris, Mrs. R. J. Harris, Mrs. M. Farish, Mrs. Earl Ray, Mrs. Earl Ray, Mrs. Laura Fudge, Mrs. Cora Beck, Mrs. Sula Grace, Mrs. Musa Tarrer.

At the request of Mrs. Tarrer, the ladies registered, giving names, addresses and clubs.

Some of the members of this club had cards placed on the co-operatives' table giving record of their canned goods. A few of the cards show a high score Mrs. Earl Ray's card shows that out of the 272 pounds she needs, she has conserved 1040 pounds. This does not take into consideration the amount consumed fresh or cured. Out of Mrs. Beck's 4180 pounds she has 1076 pounds on hand. Mrs. Tarrer has 645 pounds out of her 272 pounds on hand and her beef yearling yet to be canned.

Looking forward to a 1934 achievement day at which the accomplishments of Finch Club will be many more than at this one.

Our club is just in its premier stage, but we are proud of the results of a few months co-operating with the county agents, Miss Ruth McNabb and Mr. C. C. Morris.—Reporter.

Heavy Baby Comes To Wortham Home

WORTHAM, Nov. 30.—(Spl.)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harvey are the happy parents over the arrival of a son, born Tuesday morning. The young man tipped the scales at 14.34 pounds. Emhouse PTA Held Interesting Session With Fine Program

The Emhouse P. T. A. met at the high school Thursday night, November 16. It was decided to hold one meeting each month at night in order to create more interest, encourage a larger attendance, and give both parents a better opportunity to be present.

A special program was rendered including parents, teachers and children.

Mrs. Butler, wife of Superintendent Butler, presented the first number on the program, "Books and the Child's World." Reading not only informs but forms the mind. Reading gives us character, courage, and service. Character is higher than intellect. These are some of the thoughts offered by Mrs. Butler.

Next were poems which show love of beauty and love of nature.

"The Daffodils"—Wadsworth—By Dorothy Dodson.
"The Years at the Spring"—Browning—By Susan Owen.
"The Wind"—Stevenson—By Rosa Lee Allen.

Hero Tales which inspire "to do and dare."
"How the little Dutch Boy Saved the Dyke"—By Alden Phillips.
"William Tell"—Charles Payne.

"Heroes of the Alamo"—Olen Dinko, Jr., R. J. Phillips, Kenneth Tinkle.
"Heroic Story of Sam Houston"—Ray Hoyt Harris.

"Snow White and Rose Red"—By Third Grade children.
"Fairy Tales on the Imagination of the Child"—Mrs. C. J. DeLafosse.

The program was well rendered and heartily enjoyed by the large audience in attendance.

A Christmas party will be given Thursday night, December 21. This will include program, games and refreshments. Parents are cordially invited.

Fine Baby Girl Born to Emhouse Couple on Friday

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Childress are rejoicing over the arrival of a very fine 8-14 pound baby girl born Friday, November 24.

The happy event took place at the home of the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. DeLafosse at Emhouse, this being the second grand-baby of that family.

Mrs. Childress will be remembered as Charlotte DeLafosse.

Explaining the Service Charge and Reasons for Its Installation

The value of an account depends principally upon its average net deposit balance. One account with a balance of $1,000.00 may be profitable while another of the same amount may be unprofitable. The more checks that are drawn against an account, the greater the cost of the account to the bank. The cost, therefore, depends upon the activity of the account. It has been definitely ascertained by careful analysis and research that it costs 3c to 4c for overhead expenses to handle each check drawn against a customer's account. To pay this overhead expense the customer should maintain a balance of not less than $10.00 for each check given per month. An account carrying a balance of $100.00 will be allowed to issue ten checks against the account free, but all checks over ten will be charged for at the rate of 3c per check to cover the cost of service rendered the customer.

The Corsicana Clearing House association will also make a charge of 25c per check drawn against savings accounts other than between January 1st to 10th, and July 1st and 10th.

Peace in the Far East

The suggestion of General Araki, Japanese minister of war, that Japan summon a far eastern peace conference in Tokyo before 1935 has a pleasing sound but needs to be looked at from several standpoints before passing judgment on its value.

There is no doubt that the Far East is a danger spot in world relations. Most of the major powers have vital interest there. This was recognized by implication by General Araki in the suggestion that the conference include, in addition to Japan, the United States, Great Britain, China, India, Russia, France, Holland and Manchukuo.

Japan for the last several years has been actively pursuing a policy designed to give her a position of dominance in the Far East. Her methods have been at times ruthless and in hostile defiance of world opinion. She has gone so far as to violate treaties to which she had subscribed. The fact that the rest of the world has been too busy with big problems at home to give much attention to matters farther away may explain the ease with which she has carried forward her general purpose.

Even Tokyo must realize, though, that an accounting time eventually must come. The military and naval expansion plans upon which Japan is actively engaged lend force to this belief. Significant in this connection are the words of General Araki that if Japan failed to follow the armament reduction program and the supplementary plan, the peace of the world would be lost, and the people of Asia, led by China, will become permanent servants of the white race.

In other words, she regards herself as custodian of the fate of the people of Asia and sees the white race as a menace to these.

What would be the purpose of the suggested peace conference? In general it is the "stabilization" of the Far East. Japan's idea of what would constitute stabilization might not agree with that of other powers. A part of this was given in General Araki's assertion that the Kellogg and the League of Nations treaties have been defective and were in need of revision.

These are the treaties Japan is charged with violating in the course she has followed in China. The general apparently would have the pacts revised in a way that would legalize and give world approval to these violations.

The United States is eager to further peace in any part of the world, where it can do so without compromising its legitimate interests. Its participation in the conference as that suggested by General Araki is not advisable, but it is fully justified in its interest to the danger of being drawn into a trap.

The fact that the rest of the world has been too busy with big problems at home to give much attention to matters farther away may explain the ease with which she has carried forward her general purpose.

Even Tokyo must realize, though, that an accounting time eventually must come. The military and naval expansion plans upon which Japan is actively engaged lend force to this belief. Significant in this connection are the words of General Araki that if Japan failed to follow the armament reduction program and the supplementary plan, the peace of the world would be lost, and the people of Asia, led by China, will become permanent servants of the white race.

In other words, she regards herself as custodian of the fate of the people of Asia and sees the white race as a menace to these.

What would be the purpose of the suggested peace conference? In general it is the "stabilization" of the Far East. Japan's idea of what would constitute stabilization might not agree with that of other powers. A part of this was given in General Araki's assertion that the Kellogg and the League of Nations treaties have been defective and were in need of revision.

These are the treaties Japan is charged with violating in the course she has followed in China. The general apparently would have the pacts revised in a way that would legalize and give world approval to these violations.

The United States is eager to further peace in any part of the world, where it can do so without compromising its legitimate interests. Its participation in the conference as that suggested by General Araki is not advisable, but it is fully justified in its interest to the danger of being drawn into a trap.

JUST FOLKS

HE NEVER SAW HIS FATHER

I never saw my father. I am like him people say.
I was just a little baby at the time he passed away.
But my mother talked about him.
Off her eyes were wet with tears.
And I came to understand him with the passing of the years.
Oh, we've had our share of trouble, but my one regret must be
That I couldn't thank my father for the things he did for me.

He knew about my coming and he knew the hurt and strife
And the cares and disappointments that are incident to life.
So my schooling he provided, and my holidays were glad.
For there always was a present bought by money left by dad.

Thus I grew older, wiser, I began to sense and see,
Though I never knew my father, he was very near to me.
But I couldn't go to thank him for his tender love and care
And I mentioned this to my mother and she said: "I'm sure
I pray."

Would be carried to him promptly. But an even better way
Of remembering your father is to be from day to day.
The sort of man he dreamed of in the tasks you have to do.
It wasn't thanks he looked for, but he wanted pride in you.

STICK TO PRESENT POLICY

The World Alliance for International Friendship, favoring among other things entry of the United States into the League of Nations, has taken a new step to advance the cause of world peace.

It is embraced in the platform adopted at the alliance's good-will congress held in Philadelphia. It proposes an amendment to the Treaty of Paris "through which all the signatory nations will pledge themselves in the event of hostilities in violation of the pact, promptly to consult together to determine upon such joint measures as will help to maintain peace."

The Treaty of Paris is the so-called Briand-Kellogg pact binding the signatory nations to renounce war. The alliance's proposal would make the United States and other signatories responsible for the maintenance of peace throughout a large part of the world, quite a big job.

To go to war to prevent war doesn't have a logical sound, and yet this might be the meaning of the suggested amendment. The United States has sought to keep itself free of entanglements that might make it a party to Europe's wars. Until public sentiment unquestionably favors abandonment of this policy, it would be a serious mistake for an attempt to be made to commit the United States to the course proposed by the alliance.

MORE SPEED IS AIM

It is to be hoped that the latest step in connection with liquidation of closed banks will result in this work being greatly speeded up.

Approximately $3,000,000,000 in assets still are tied up in closed banks. Early freeing of these would loose a potential buying power that would have a stimulating effect upon trade generally.

Despite repeated pronouncements from Washington that the work would be speeded, headway has been comparatively slow. Now a new effort to hasten the process is contemplated. The deposit liquidation board of the Reconstruction Finance corporation has announced the appointment of 64 committees of bankers and business men for this purpose.

These regional committees will receive applications from closed banks in their respective areas for liquidating claims from the corporation. The committees will review the applications and fix the liquidating value for listed assets over a period of from three to five years. Recommendation will be made that a loan of this amount, less the cost of determining the value of the

PAN-AMERICAN POLICY

The response in South America to Secretary Hull's decision to be present at the Pan-American conference in Montevideo next month is of a kind to encourage the hope that the nations of this hemisphere are beginning to wake up to the importance of co-operation along economic and political lines.

A healthy interest is being shown in his projected visit. Before his plans were announced, a movement was under way having as its aim postponement of the conference because of political conditions generally and the Chaco war particularly. This now has been abandoned and preparations are being made for the assembling of the conference, the seventh of its kind, December 3. The general disposition of the nations to the south is to look upon it as promising important accomplishments, due largely to Mr. Hull's participation.

Reflection of this attitude is found in the fact that several of the participating governments are revising their delegations so as to include in them their most able men. Revision of the conference agenda because of Washington's serious interest in the meeting also is being considered.

Intramerican policy long has been a subject of much discussion among the nations of this hemisphere. It has held the stage at pan-American conferences and in other forums, but little headway toward agreement upon such a policy has been made. The reasons for this is many.

The present seems a propitious time for the subject to be revived and for a serious attempt to be made to find a mutually satisfactory plan of political and economic co-operation.

Assets, he advanced by the corporation. It is expected that this will speed up the work, something which is badly needed if present frozen assets are to play a part in routing the depression.

Huey Long says he was responsible for the election of Mr. Roosevelt. Considering the cold shoulder the administration has given him in the matter of federal appointments we expect Huey sees his achievement now as something to be bragged about.

WANTS TO KNOW WHY

Cleveland, where gangsterism has flourished on a large scale for years, seems headed toward a cleanup as the result of having a grand jury foreman who believes in getting at the bottom of crime problems.

The foreman is William Feather, who is described as being a writer of business philosophy. But on the side it appears that he has been making a little study of crime conditions in Cleveland. He has recalled that, the Cleveland police chief, two years ago, when gangsterism was at its height in many cities, compiled a list of 65 underworld characters whom he branded as public enemies. They were men with known criminal records.

The grand jury of which Mr. Feather is foreman has been called to make an investigation of crime. A little inquiry pursued by the foreman disclosed that none of the public enemies had been sent to prison. A few of them have been killed since the list containing their names was made public by the police chief. The others apparently have remained in Cleveland and continued to pursue their activities.

Why have they not been prosecuted or driven from the city, the foreman asked. No satisfactory answer being forthcoming from responsible quarters, he has had police officials summoned before his investigating body, and will try to get the answer from them.

Little is to be gained if "public enemies" are to go unmolested and be permitted to continue their lawless activities. It is only when such branding is followed by arrest and prosecution that good is accomplished. Where this is not done law-abiding citizens have the right to demand the reason in order that responsibility may be fixed.

FARMER CHISELERS

From the wheat growers has come some of the most caustic criticism of the national recovery program and its administrators, so one assumes that these critics, more than all others, are doing their part. Another false assumption.

Under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration the government promises to pay the wheat growers a bonus and the growers promise the government to reduce their acreage by 15 per cent. The government, which is the people, is carrying out its part of the agreement. What of the farmers?

Three statistical agencies have been checking up on the progress made in acreage reduction. One reports a curtailment of 1.1 per cent. Another of 6 per cent. The third, 10 per cent. Illinois has actually increased its acreage, while Kansas, Ohio, Texas and Montana have not brought theirs down the requisite 15 per cent.

Farmers are evading the AAA by planting new land in wheat. For every acre turned into some other crop by one farmer a fraction of an acre is turned into wheat by his neighbor who did not raise wheat last year. The purpose of these chiselers is to take advantage of the expected high prices and next year's bonus.

Although the act may not expressly forbid it, the intent was that no new ground be planted in wheat until the present surplus is consumed. The government may be powerless to chackmate these chiselers but the consumers, upon whom the bonus falls, can deal with them. Here is a job for those who believe in fair dealing.

Capone again seeking his freedom probably wants to get out in time to deliver a last load before prohibition is repealed.

REGISTRATIONS FOR CWA PROJECTS STOP FOR PRESENT TIME

Because the quota allowed Navarro county at present had been considered excessive, officials of the board of welfare and relief said Tuesday that registration for civil works administration projects had been suspended for the time being while the workers attempted to pick up their routine duty and restore some semblance of order to the chaotic condition of their records resulting from the heavy rush of the past several days while the new system was being inaugurated.

At present the allotment of workers for Navarro county has been placed at 1118 by the officials, but local officials pointed out that this was not necessarily the maximum figure, but was based on the preliminary estimate, and said further that they anticipated an increase of from 15 to 20 per cent in the number within a few days.

With registration of workers going on in several county communities, and virtually enough men on the Corsicana rolls to exhaust the quota, the board decided that it was best to devote time to other phases of the work for a time until the quotas were enlarged or other necessary work was completed.

Officials also called attention to the fact that only able-bodied men were qualified for the civil works administration projects, and that the projects were approved only with the intention of the authorities to provide work for men who were able to do a full day's service, and it was not a disguised means of giving direct relief. They pointed out that men who were not able to do heavy work or regular manual labor were still eligible for direct relief and would be given all the assistance necessary to prevent suffering, until such time as projects could be devised that would be within their abilities.

With the heavy rush of other work during the past few days, the registering of men by the national re-employment service, carried on in connection with the local relief office has also been temporarily suspended.

Local relief officials were confronted with another problem Tuesday as they attempted to solve the problem of the Thanksgiving holiday without disrupting the work schedules as originally arranged. The state offices had been asked to give a ruling on whether or not the men could or would be worked on Thursday of this week.

A number of county communities were also putting the finishing touches on work projects Tuesday, preparing to submitting them to Austin for approval immediately.

To extend City mains. City Engineer W. W. McClendon reported Monday that city workers were engaged in completing estimates and plans for the extension of the city water mains to the Liberty Heights addition northwest of the city. Labor and some materials will be asked by the city in the near future.

The city forces were also preparing an estimate for materials and labor needed to re-launch the street repair program projected early this year but halted when the earlier relief efforts were suspended.

PRESIDENT SIGNED LIQUOR AND MOVIE RECOVERY CODES

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today had the arm of government extended over the newly arising liquor industry and the powerful motion picture business.

In signing the codes covering these two groups, the President last night enunciated policies permitting them to regulate themselves but providing for strict federal supervision with power of veto and initiative.

In this principle some observers were inclined to see a policy of gradually returning to industry the right of self-regulation but with full government authority to supervise and direct.

Mr. Roosevelt acted quickly upon receipt of the liquor code to put it in form for his approval so that there will be some control of the whiskey traffic when the repeal amendment goes into effect next week.

For the motion picture industry he provided a 90-day trial period during which he expects a "full report on excessive salaries or other emoluments, both as to artists and as to executives and their families." The President named as his first two representatives on the picture code authority Marie Dressler and Eddie Cantor, prominent actors, and Lawrence Lowell, president emeritus of Harvard university.

The President today had with him two of his three recovery leaders who have gone through the trying period of organization. Secretary Wallace and Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator.

Relaxed by a week-end in the quiet of Warm Springs, General Johnson departed for Washington. Twenty-one new industrial codes were taken back to him with presidential approval.

Tomorrow, Mr. Roosevelt will talk over the monetary situation again with Eugene Black, governor of the federal reserve board. Black is known to have been in sympathy with, but in co-operation with, the government's commodity dollar effort.

FARM MORTGAGE CONCILIATION BOARD MEMBERSHIP NAMED

The Navarro county conciliation board of five members to aid in the relieving of farm owners whose properties are mortgaged and heavily involved through the Federal government plan has been appointed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, it was learned here Tuesday morning.

The board will be composed of Wm. Conner, Corsicana; W. A. Stockard, Corsicana; W. T. (Buck) Griffin, Kerens; 4; Spart Berry, Dawson; and Alf Chamberlain, Frost.

The boards in the various counties of Texas were named by Governor Ferguson upon request of federal authorities.

It is the plan of the government to aid farmers whose properties are heavily mortgaged in refinancing loans and the reduction of interest through Federal loans.

Wortham Hi School Burglarized; Other Robberies Reported

WORTHAM, Nov. 28.—(Sp.)—The Wortham High School was burglarized some time during Sunday night, making the second attempt within one week. The safe was blown open in Supt. J. A. Roberts' office, the desk of Miss Mattie Lowe Rosson, English teacher, had been entered, and the Home Economics department also was another object of the intruders. It is thought possibly the Senior's class rings which had just arrived, and more than $50 of the Bulldog's football fund were the objects of the robbers' attempt.

The Crouch Grain and Poultry warehouse, was also entered during last night, and some things reported missing.

For several weeks some petty thieving has been attempted and stores entered, as yet no arrest has been made.

HOLLOW CHEEKS

Thin Faces. If you're a thin face and hollow cheeks, try Miss Forbes' suggestions for building up those very ugly valleys which form under the eyes.

If you happen to be the type of woman whose cheeks seem hollow underneath the cheek bone, you are both lucky and unlucky—lucky because in youth this sort of face is delicate and sensitive in appearance, but in even early middle age these hollow cheeks become too noticeable and make the face look far older than it should. When this begins to happen you should do whatever you can with massage and flesh building creams to build out these hollows.

Before I tell you how, let me make a suggestion. Your type of face photographs very badly, since shadows form in these hollows and give you, in a picture, a very ugly look. Therefore, when you are photographed, use no rouge where the hollow part is, but instead, the merest trifle over the bone above the cheeks. You might also do a daily set of five minute facial exercises—for instance, hold the lips tightly together, blow them out again, and keep this up for a minute or a minute and a half. Massage also helps.

Have light thrown on your face from underneath. If out of doors, you can do this by spreading a sheet on the ground so it reflects the light on you from beneath, or by getting a white screen, or something white thrown over a screen and tipping this back so it rests on a chair and reflects the light up into your face underneath.

Now for a massage. Hold wet cloths over your skin so as to open the pores and then, while the skin is still hot, rub lanolin cold cream into the hollows of the cheeks. Use a fair amount and work it gently into the skin with the fingers. This is fattening and the skin will take up some of it, although not much. You might also do a daily set of five minute facial exercises—for instance, hold the lips tightly together, blow them out again, and keep this up for a minute or a minute and a half. Massage also helps.

ONE OF "SEVEN WONDERS OF WORLD" UPSET BY MISSIONS*

Diana of Ephesians Disappeared After Arrival Of Paul's Message—Exciting Times in Old Ephesus—A Traveler's Memories.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

One of the stock questions frequently sent in to editors of newspaper correspondence columns is "What were the Seven Wonders of the World?" The subject is of interest to every generation. Seldom, though, it is recalled that one of these "Seven Wonders of the World," and perhaps the most famous of all, figures in the New Testament story. Yet Diana of the Ephesians, the huge and precious statue of Artemis, the Mother Goddess, which the ancients believed came down from heaven, plays a large role in the missionary labors of the Apostle Paul. And by his Gospel she was overthrown.

To get the background of this exciting story we must recall that Ephesus was "The Eye of Asia," a city of culture, prosperity, luxury, and world-wide trade and pilgrimage. From Spain on the West and India on the East, and from all the wide regions in between, pilgrims and traders thronged to Ephesus, which represented the apex of Graeco-Roman culture.

Musings of a Traveller. None of the ruined cities of the ancient world has attracted me as much or drawn me so often as Ephesus—except Jerusalem. The excavated ruins are far more interesting than those of Babylon. Sculptures, marble pavements, baths, theatre, library and houses may all be seen today by the leisurely tourist. This well-preserved theatre, a huge and sumptuous structure, once echoed to the cries of the mob bent on lynching Paul. These streets are the very stones pressed by the feet of Paul and Apollos and Luke and John, and Mary, the Mother of Jesus, for whom John cared to the end. The stately harbor is now silted up, and resembles a huge green frying pan. For Ephesus today is dead and uninhabited. Only memories dwell there—memories of the story of an older civilization at its ripest and rottenest; memories of the labors of Missionary Paul and his fellow saints in mighty combat with paganism; memories of the great Diana and her cult; memories of the Ecumenical Councils of the early church, which determined the doctrines of Christianity; memories of the association that wiped out the once-glorious city and covered it with the slow debris of the centuries, so that the archaeologists have been needed to recover it.

Farewell to Diana. Not one out of a hundred of the relatively few tourists who visit Ephesus ever learns even the name of the once gorgeous and famous Temple of Diana of the Ephesians. I know the spot, as revealed by archaeologists, but it is marked by only a few jagged columns, and is practically nothing but a depression in the ground, near a Moslem mosque, overlooking the city from the heights to the East.

What a dramatic defeat! Gone is Diana, whom the Ephesians loved, and the whole world has been changed.

Gone is every vestige of her cult on all the earth. Not a living creature to honor her. Even the place, the center of world-pilgrimage in the days when Paul preached, her power, was lost.

History, until Christian art found it. Diana is dead, but Paul and his Gospel have ever-widening conquests.

A deal of faith on the part of the little group of missionaries to envisage this victory they did not live to see. This is the victory that brought the world, even our

A Man's Love For a City. Last night, at a testimonial dinner, I heard eminent Philadelphians exult in their love for their city. With this Lesson in mind, I thought of other civic loyalties including Paul's devotion to Ephesus and the Christians there. He labored longer in Diana's city than in any other place, about three years. As a thoroughbred warrior he rejoiced in coming to grips with heathendom at its very citadel. What an inspiration is he to every city pastor who feels helpless and well-nigh hopeless in the midst of a great city's sin. Ephesus is evidence that there are no odds too great for the Gospel to meet.

At first, Paul went, as usual, to the synagogues with his Message. But soon the Jews would have none of that, so he moved his meetings into the hall of Tyrannus. Nor was his work confined to meetings. Day and night bore their witness in every quarter of the great city. So permeated was Ephesus with their influence that the vested interests associated with the worship of Diana became alarmed, and staged a riot in protest.

Demetrius and his fellow-silver-smiths stand for the perpetual phenomenon of established business in opposition to progress and human welfare. They are the lineal progenitors of the captains of industry who are today seeking to sabotage the N. R. A. in the United States. All they care for is their own profits. Little mattered to them the new life that was entering into the people. Nowadays it seems as if the Pauline principle is coming to its greatest vindication in the triumph of popular rights over vested interests.

Perils of Popularity. Out of this great drama of Ephesus, the scene that has been chosen by the International Lesson Committee for special study is the incident of the unscrupulous seven sons of Scæva, who sought to profit by Paul's popularity. They had witnessed his wonders of power and of healing and of changed lives; so they undertook to exercise evil spirits by naming the name of Jesus, whom Paul preached. They were professional magicians and were willing to adopt any method that would bring them money—early instances of the men who join churches because it is good for their business.

But the evil spirit knew the difference between the genuine and the imitation. So the demoniac leaped upon them and gave them a terrible beating. Thus early did Christianity face the perils of popularity, the drawing into its following of insincere persons who had no vital religious experience. To this day the greatest weakness of the church is its respectability. It is good to be a Christian, it would be better for everybody. A measure of purifying persecution would be good for the church. The real Christians left in Russia today are few, but mighty and sure to prevail.

An Old-Time Book Burning. Hitler followed an ancient fashion when he recently ordered the burning of proscribed books in Germany. That sort of thing is one of the utilities practiced by the centuries.

In Ephesus, however, there was a book-burning of another sort. The city was famous for its magicians and soothsayers and their amulets. Many of these were converted to the Gospel, the fate of the sons of Scæva being an arresting factor in their change. Of their own accord, and to show how completely they broke with their evil past, these men pub-

STOCKYARDS STRIKE SETTLED AND WORK RESUMED WEDNESDAY

EMPLOYERS AGREE TO TEN PERCENT WAGE INCREASE PENDING NEGOTIATIONS

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—(P)—The strike of approximately 8,000 workmen at the Union Stockyards was settled early today, at least temporarily, when the employer organization agreed to a ten percent wage increase, pending further negotiations. Within a few minutes after the agreement was reached pickets were withdrawn and the strikers started back to their jobs.

A parley, beginning at midnight last night, arranged by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago and chairman of the Chicago regional board of the N.R.A., brought about the agreement, which was regarded as a partial victory for the stockyard workers, who had demanded a return to the 1929 wage scale, an increase of about 50 per cent over the pay they have been getting in recent months.

The agreement provided among other things that all men are to be reemployed without discrimination, and that while further negotiations are in progress any points on which the affected parties are unable to agree are to be submitted to the regional labor board for mediation.

Other points in the agreement provide for the launching of negotiations by the Union Stockyard and Transit company with representatives of the men for a settlement of points of dispute, and the naming of an arbitrator if steps toward mediation fail.

In regard to disputes involving wages, the agreement provides that any increases are to be made retroactive from the date the men return to work.

Prevents Closing of Yards. Present at the conference with Hutchins were O. T. Henkle, general manager of the stockyards company; John Gorman, president of local 517 of the Live Stock Handlers' Union, the organization that led the strike; and other union officials.

Conclusion to the strike came just in time to prevent the enforcement of an order of stockyard officials to close the yards for trading after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Late yesterday a fire that William J. O'Brien, assistant general superintendent of the Union Stock Yard and Transit company, estimated caused $75,000 damage swept over a square block of hog pens and loading chutes at the yards. Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan said an investigation would be made to determine if the blaze was caused by incendiaries.

Los Angeles, Nov. 30.—(P)—A motion picture cowboy was killed and seven other persons injured in a traffic crash in which four automobiles were involved Wednesday on the Mint Canyon highway. A blinding snowstorm was blamed.

Roy "Skeeter" Bill" Robbins, film cowboy employed on the Hoot Gibson ranch, was killed. Among the injured was Carmen W. "Curly" Fletcher, veteran cowboy and author of the popular cowboy song, "Strawberry Roan" and other ballads of the range.

Robbins was a passenger in a sedan in which a party of film cowboys, their wives and friends were on their way to Noah Beery's mountain resort. They had stopped to fix their lights when a truck crashed into their car. Fletcher was in a coupe which smashed into the wreckage. He suffered a possible skull fracture when he climbed uninjured from the automobile only to be hit by an iron bar protruding from another truck which rammed into the heaped up machines.

COTTON ACREAGE RENTAL CONTRACTS ARE MADE PUBLIC

GOVERNMENT PLANS ELIMINATE LARGE ACREAGE DURING NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(P)—The farm administration cotton acreage reduction contract for 1934 and 1935, made public today, provides that cotton growers who agree to reduce will be paid a rental on land taken out of production ranging from slightly less than $3 to $18 an acre.

This was a change in the original plan which called for rental of from $3 to $11 for the land taken out of production. The farm administration is seeking to reduce cotton acreage next year to 25,000,000 as compared to an average planted area of around 40,000,000 acres.

In addition to the rentals, producers will be paid not less than one cent per pound on their "domestic allotment." The domestic allotment is 40 per cent of the average yield of cotton land during the years 1926-1932.

Originally, the farm administration planned to virtually assure growers who signed contracts a parity price on their do-truck crashed into their car.

Fletcher was in a coupe which smashed into the wreckage. He suffered a possible skull fracture when he climbed uninjured from the automobile only to be hit by an iron bar protruding from another truck which rammed into the heaped up machines.
